

STRAYING OF HUMANITY, NEW YEAR

Man on earth is in perpetual rush here and there, wandering in constant dreaming, overestimating his own importance through pride and arrogance. Yet, he doesn't have the slightest idea how little time remains for him to awaken from a wrong indolence and self-exaltation. Everything that happens on earth, terrible events in every corner of the earth on a daily basis, all that is nothing but a clamour: "Wake up, small little man!" If you want to save yourself, it is about time!

People, are you not seeing and feeling the size of what is happening?

Now follows Quotes from Echoes to the Grail Message, lecture 'Festival of the Radiant Star, 29th of December 1929':

"However, humans on earth continuously deplete themselves with nothingness, trying to put forward their earthly matters as the universe's main affair, and presenting their own human opinions as the center of everything that happens. In this senseless waste of power, one human life after another perishes in vain. Exactly in this, man shows how small he is, since side-events of his existence seem so big for him.

What does man know about the world? He walks the world in silliness and heavy-footed, thinking only on profit and pleasure, sleeping, eating, drinking, family, perhaps the nation, the homeland, yet always in self-complacency on his own knowledge about what he can do! However, just a mere glimpse up to the stars suffices immediately to see clearly, how small he is. And in doing so, he would stay alert more easily against false delusion about his own size.

Yet, he walks around it throughout his earthly life with unyielding arrogance.

Being inaccessible, even defiant, he becomes ridiculously bad in order not to lose at any cost some of his arrogance, which allows him, like a fool, to proudly walk on one small planet in the universe."

"His acts look unspeakably ridiculous, although it is no longer possible to laugh. Looking at him, only sadness and anger can be born together with indignation at wasting so many beautiful gifts of God. These can be assessed only in humility and knowledge, which are terms, as it seems, unknown to earthly humans.

They are indolent and hesitant; those who carry within themselves a spark that they should light up. But they are still asleep. They entangle themselves in loops of trivialities and believe that they cannot devote time to their soul; their spirit that already knocks relentlessly on walls built around each spirit by their wrong earthly actions. A spirit knocks, calling you to open the gate, so that the spirit could develop itself and acquire abilities to rise up to a level of its homogeneous kind, to the home for all spiritual, to paradise."

"Do not say you are too occupied with concerns on how to earn your daily bread; that malevolence, war and diseases will not allow you to gain consciousness. All these arose only as a result of your fault! It did not need to be this way! You have fallen deeply, and you are still falling deeper and deeper. Had you been more successful, you would have thought even less about God! Do not fool yourselves that it would have been otherwise! You have not asked what your soul needs in order that you could go the right way in this creation, and to finally achieve eternal life in joyful fulfillment of human existence. Also during the life here on earth!

Pay attention to my words! Only your soul can be eternal, but not necessarily. On the contrary, very few human souls on this earth will see the realm of Light one day. A large number of them will perish because they turned out to be unworthy to receive the grace of God.

Do you dare to hope that now God, only upon your desire, will lift immediately from you all horrors that have become necessary to keep you awake and out of sleep, in which you have sinfully kept your spirit? In that case, you have no respect for the Creator. You see in Him a servant that should serve you every time you feel like it! That is a mistake, which must lead you to eternal damnation! You are walking on the razor's edge! Be careful not to be thrown over the wrong side!

“Wake up to life! You escalate your deeds to the utmost limits, because, so far, you were walking on wrong paths. You have made it too comfortable for yourselves with your reckless opinion about the forgiveness of your sins, about the eternal patience of God, and the fatal delusion that you can load the entire burden of guilt on the Son of God for your atonement. All this can no longer be called a misunderstanding but an indolence of thinking, worthy of condemnation, combined with vain conceitedness of your constrained and deplorable earthly intellect!

Now you'll get all the answers from your God! You have been warned enough. You just did not want to hear and understand, even the most obvious guidance. You simply wanted to enforce that the earth and the earthly life of people should only go according to your imagination and your selfish wishes! But God does not permit being the subject of mockery! Gather all your strength so that you realize that you may also experience time on earth that God has promised as the time of Judgment!”

“If you want to be rescued then do not rely only on salvation from outside but awake within yourself! External things are worthless. You need to change from the inside out in order to achieve the possibility to live. Everything you attached yourself to, for what you presumptuously wasted your earthly time, will turn into ruins. People have no choice any longer. For the first time, you finally have to obey, no matter whether you like it or not. Omnipotence will force you now to walk the path that your God and Lord commanded. Even though it is terrible, yet it will happen for luck of those that may still survive.”

“Path to salvation into the Light requires that those who want to be retained must embark on this path with all their strength. They shall walk the path unconditionally and must not drag along their hitherto obtained opinions.”

“One has not to ask, beg naively, but he has to put all his firm volition into the hands of a new blessed existence and action on earth. He must change himself completely. Only such one will be reborn spiritually with the power of the Holy Spirit! No one else will see the realm of Light!”

*New Year has begun! Let us accumulate all the strength that we have within us and let us do everything we can in order to save ourselves and awake to a New life. Our Creator and Lord of all worlds, out of the great mercy, gives us the last opportunity for awakening and to our salvation in His “Word”!

Let us grab this last opportunity and with joyful seriousness, let us throw away all that is old, every ballast and dogma, and let us thank God for His incomprehensible grace of our liberation and salvation!
