

CHANGES - EXPLANATION

Dear readers - listeners,

Our team of Radio Rescue has decided more than once in the past to write less articles, since our activities was not adequate and in some cases, according to the responses from readers, even unnecessarily provocative. Each time a new article was published, we were expecting that this is the time when the change comes and we will be heard ... but nothing changes and still the same deafness and blindness among people has prevailed.

Yet after some time we broke our resolve and new articles have been popping-up as if the people have changed. Our webpage is visited mostly by regular readers who do not need our articles because they have the Word and recognize It; moreover they are able to explain for themselves the wisdom contained within It in a most suitable and necessary way for each one particularly. Looking back on all our articles we can see that we addressed every burning issue in our lives, more or less promoted in the media. The aim of our articles was and still is to bring honest seekers towards the Word of Truth, which gives an answer to each question and should serve as a map for those who wish to develop their spirit and return to the spiritual realm - into paradise, where they will live forever in useful activities and happiness. Compared to this Word not even a single article of ours is able to explain this more perfectly. Therefore from now on we are going to use the appropriate recovery of our older articles that will appear as actual to problems that will arise. And if a new, yet unsolved, topic/problem arises we will address it adequately. Therefore our webpage in the present state and with the present content suits its purpose, i.e. it can direct honest seekers towards the Word of Truth.

And in the meantime our activities are going to be redirected to fine-tune some things in relation to future broadcast.

Instead of writing new articles we will focus our energy on deeds, about which we are certain that will be useful. There was enough talking during this time and our task is indeed to spread the Word, but only where it is welcome and desirable.

Such time has not come yet, therefore until then we will act as mentioned above.

When that time comes, we want to be best prepared and then everyone will be able to get the Word, and even get a lesson for events that he or she will experience.

For all those who have found the Word, that is, also for us, is true that we should not live in anticipation of the promises of coming events. Therefore we all should be thankful for the chance to work on ourselves in the delay of promised events. Should this not have happened this way; we also would have been erased from the book of Life. Therefore let us grant this opportunity also to others and let's wait for the time when they also get into a position of need, which only managed to wake us too.

In the meantime, during the active preparations for spreading the Word at a time when the demand for It rises up, let us give ourselves to those close to us as it is advised in the Word itself:

Now you are to be the giving ones, the upward leading ones out of all suffering! But you cannot do so as long as you keep the bridges drawn up. Give of yourself to mankind as I gave of myself. Then you will be true warriors of God here on earth! Only then do you fulfill your task.

A cheerful greeting has awakened many a spirit, a smile relieved many a pain, and a sympathetic look has breathed self-confidence into many a weak soul!

How impoverished have you been in your spiritual abundance, which you did not wish to use for others to delight in and feast on! The joy of others alone has an invigorating and refreshing effect on the spirit! You are the receivers whenever you cheerfully bring happiness to those whose spirits are yearning; when you encourage those who waver and strengthen those who are weak! For this purpose I gave you everything and urged you to make the most of your talents!

Although there is a desire in us to give them the Word itself because we know that only the Word alone can provide them lasting freedom, complete fulfillment and the possibility of salvation, we must respect the free will of people and we also have to respect the Word and offer It only to honest seekers! The pain we feel and the frustration that we experience regarding the disinterest in this treasure of treasures, no matter how profound the pain and frustration are, cannot be compared at all to pain and disappointment that we caused to emissaries of Light by our own disinterest, sometimes maybe even by our wrong attitude; i.e. those emissaries of Light who had come among us to announce this Word!

Let's keep the hearth of our thoughts pure, let's strive for justice and let's give to our close ones the best in us; let's be actively useful in preparation to spread the Word, just let us simply live according to God's laws fully, and let us faithfully persevere in our efforts! Then we shall achieve our goal and we will serve as the last helpful link of the chain in assisting the work of the great Judgement, by which the Lord frees the world from all darkness!

If only we manage to provide nothing but joy to the Light, and if only each of our effort brings as much fruit as it is still possible!
